Dear Matthew,

Keck Award Nomination

I'm very pleased to let you know that your project has been shortlisted for IIC's 2022 Keck Award. We had a particularly large and strong set of applicants this year from every part of the world, but your narrative stood out for its originality and capacity to create a model for lasting change, and we have therefore selected you as one of ten finalists.

Given the high number of nominations received there will be a change in approach to this year's judging, with a public vote to select the winner, alongside a special Judges' Award.
